WESTERN TEAM MAY BE SURPRISE

Red and White Eleven More Powerful Than Is Generally Supposed.

STARTS ITS CONTESTS TODAY AGAINST EASTERN

Should Begin Season With Victory Over Light Blue and White.

Other Gossip.

BY H. C. BYRD.

Western, which plays its first game in the high school foot ball series today, may prove the surprise of the season. Not many have conceded the Red and White much of a chance for the championship, yet it is a fact that it will be represented by one of the heaviest and fastest eleven among the schools.

Eastern, the team scheduled to meet Western, should not prove strong enough to win. The Light Blue and White is sure to have great difficulty gaining ground, as the probability is that the Georgetown youngsters will get the margin more easily than the average high school game is won.

There may be an upset, because it is well realized that high school teams may take any turn in their play. However, if Western does as well as it is capable of nothing need be looked for but a victory.

After the tie between Business and Tech Western has a grand opportunity to win the championship. The Red and White must defeat Business and Technical to do that, which is a very difficult task. Business and Tech have been in a tie game easier to dispose of than one of them would have been had it gotten off to a bad start. It is a well known fact that the team has been held back considerably, and has not been able to show its strength. It is heavy and capable, much more so than the followers of scholastic foot ball think.

The contest will take place on Georgetown field, and is to start at 3 o'clock.

Yale's defeat at the hands of Washington and Jefferson in such a decisive manner was not unexpected. It was just cause for gloom on the Dark Blue campus. There is a hitch somewhere, but it is not yet known. One man, whose connection there would entitle him to know, it would seem, says that the whole situation revolves itself into a lack of material because so many of the players are ineligible. It is stated that there is a possibility of a team of ineligible which is far above the present variety in potential strength. As a result of this, the scrumblers in which the varsity meets these players, as it is reported, the varsity usually gets wiped up with the utmost ease. If the team under greatest ban were eligible to represent the Dark Blue there would be an entirely different situation. It is a fact that the team is now taking the short end of the scores, if certain statements are to be taken at their face value.

The victory of Cornell over Harvard was not so much unexpected. The Ithacans were conceded to have pretty much of an even chance against the Crimson. It may be that Harvard, though, that Harvard has not a powerful eleven because of its defeat. The team as a whole is of great capability, according to those who watched the play, and has not yet reached its form by a long way. Harvard misses the state it lost by graduation last spring, but if anybody figures that Yale and Princeton are going to have it easy in November, they are pretty sure to find themselves relieved of that idea in November.

Cornell has perhaps the strongest foot ball combination that has ever represented it. The team is heavy, fast and well developed. Its backs are clever, and the whole eleven is one that is to be feared no matter what kind of an aggregation it is opposed to.

Gallaudet came through in the game with the team of two terrors, Yale, and won by a score which is indicative of the real power back of the Kendall Green eleven when it is excited. The Red and Blue now figures it will go through the remaining part of its schedule with more than the ordinary success.

Judging by the comparative results of the play of the two teams, Yale is not likely to get a chance to break its string of defeats at the hands of secondary teams this week. Colgate is to appear at New Haven, and if the showing of that eleven in comparison to the work done by Yale is to be taken as a true criterion as to what the result of the contest will be then there appears but the faintest ray of hope for the latter. Colgate won from the army, has scored more than 200 points, and has not yet had its goal line crossed. Yale has been defeated by Virginia and Washington and Jefferson, barely won from Lehigh by a single point and its scoring has been almost of a negligible character in relation to that done by Colgate. That Dark Blue right now there does not appear to be very much chance for it to accomplish a great deal this season. Unless things change considerably Princeton and Harvard are both going to tame the Bulldogs.

Virginia's failure to show as well against Georgia as was expected was only weak the sequel to the games with Yale and Harvard. The Orange and Blue had been primed with the idea of having a very close battle, but shape to face Yale and Harvard, and after those games were played there was a natural reaction, something of a relapse. That is a period which comes after every big foot ball game and is all the more likely following two such contests as those with Yale and Harvard, for which Virginia undoubtedly was keyed up to the highest pitch. The Georgia eleven probably is not nearly as strong in comparison to Virginia as the score of the game last Saturday would tend to indicate.

The Maryland Aggies are to play their first game in the series for the state championship of Maryland this week, being scheduled to meet St. John's in their big home game Saturday. St. John's has been nothing more than the Farmers all season and undoubtedly has the strongest team that has represented it since the fall of 1912.

The game is sure to be one of the hardest fought of the year, as there is no doubt that the two eleven are more powerful than the average. The Farmers naturally will want to win on their first appearance in the series for a state title, and all the more so since there has been a great rivalry between them and St. John's. The Aggies, without its captain and quarterback, last Saturday played a whole lot better game against Georgetown than the score would indicate, and it is coming to College Park this year with determination to overcome the defeat. It is questionable if Hopkins has been a team in its history that was any stronger than that which is slaying its way through the eleven it is facing at Homewood. Hopkins has played three of the other colleges in the race for the state title, and has won all the contests by big scores. Mount St. Mary's was beaten by 52 to 0, Western Maryland trounced 35 to 12, and last Saturday Washington College received the short end of 62 to 8.

Hopkins is laying its claim to the state title already, and it seems not without good reason on which to base its faith in the capabilities of the team. A powerful line is the main factor in Hopkins' success, but it also is possessed of a fast, heavy backfield.

ARMY CENTER RUSH HURT.

The golf committee went over the cards Monday, sorted out the players and paired them off as follows:

WEST POINT, N. Y., October 24.—Ewan, the Army's star center rush, is the only cadet who will likely be idle for a few days as a result of the rough contact with Georgetown last Saturday. Big Mac's wound has been cauterized and is doing well. The Army squad got the two sections of foot ball yesterday, although neither of them was of a strenuous nature. The squad went through its evolutions on the plains rather easily, position drills, forward passing and punting featuring the work, which was chiefly designed to take out the kinks and muscle bruises. The second session was held in the "gym," and consisted of a blackboard demonstration and talk.

Some of the men crippled in the Colgate game are still on the side lines, notably Ford and Coffin of the back field and Meacham and Parker of the line. Olinian also rested. All of the hunkies are expected to be back when the team will be sent into a hard scrimmage with the scrubs. The coaches are pleased with the men's work yesterday and look for continued improvement this week.

MACK GETS NEW CATCHER.

Scout's Arguments Unavailing, So Manager Is Called.

BINGHAMTON, N. Y., October 25.—Mike Drennan, scout of the Philadelphia Athletics, was unsuccessful in obtaining the signature of Murphy, a catcher of the Binghamton team, and wired Connie Mack, the Philadelphia manager, that he had called on him. Mack, who is in the city yesterday afternoon and soon had Murphy's name signed to a contract.

The catcher's release was recently purchased by Binghamton from Montreal, and it was paid a good price to the local club in order to obtain Murphy, who is regarded as the best throwing catcher in the State League and a timely hitter. He started his base ball career with Reading of the Tri-State League, in 1910.

AIM AT BARNSTORMING.

President Chivington Will Ask Minors to Take Action.

CHICAGO, October 25.—The National Association of Minor Leagues, at its meeting in San Francisco November 9, will be asked to act on legislation designed to do away with some of the evils of "barnstorming." President Chivington of the American Association last Saturday. Some players of the Chivington's league took part in an exhibition game at Indianapolis Sunday, which, reports say, would win a riot among spectators, players and umpires, and repetitions of that sort of thing he wants to prevent.

JUST LEARNS THAT HE IS A FOOT BALL HERO

PHILADELPHIA, October 25.—Graves Williams, who scored the only touchdown against Pittsburgh in the Pennsylvania game Saturday, came out of a daze yesterday and was surprised to learn that he had contributed to Pennsylvania's score.

Williams started the game against Pittsburgh, but the fray had been under way but a few minutes when he had a collision with Fry, the visitors' fullback. Williams was badly dazed, but entered the game again in the second half. He appeared to run through the plays all right. Williams came out of his dazed condition during recitation yesterday morning and was surprised when told that he had scored a touchdown.

ANNUAL GOLF TOURNEY FOR PRESIDENT'S CUP

Strong Field Starts Match Play Tomorrow at Chevy Chase Club for Coveted Trophy.

The annual President's cup golf tournament of the Chevy Chase Club will start tomorrow with a strong field of thirty-two players. It will be match play all the way down to the finals, opening with the first round tomorrow of eighteen holes. The participants can play any time during the day, and of course, a majority of the matches will be run off in the afternoon. Thursday the second round will be played, and the third round Friday. Saturday the semi-finals will be played in the morning and the finals in the afternoon.

The handsome cup donated by the president of the club, John F. Wilkins, goes to the winner, and the club also donates a cup for the runner-up.

Preparation for this tournament has been going on for the past month, the title of the best net scores in practice getting into the exclusive group of thirty-two men, who will battle for supremacy on the handicap basis. Should the weather continue pleasant the tournament promises to be one of the most interesting of the year.

Pairings for Tournament.

The golf committee went over the cards Monday, sorted out the players and paired them off as follows: George Richards vs. T. A. Clayton, E. H. Loftus vs. Morven Thompson, Alexander Britton vs. J. D. Cassels, Hughes Olinphart vs. Samuel Dalsell, G. W. Dentfeld vs. J. M. Sterrett, J. A. Larcombe vs. M. A. Anderson, M. Pittney vs. C. C. Long, Harry Taylor vs. R. W. McNeely, E. B. Babbitt vs. R. G. Peter, A. G. Lott vs. J. A. McIlhenny, E. M. Talcott vs. H. B. Davidson, E. M. Weaver vs. J. H. de Sibour, T. W. McAbey vs. J. H. Clapp, G. P. Minnigerode vs. M. E. Gates, W. B. Mason vs. H. Dulaney, Jr., and G. T. Smith vs. G. F. Elliott.

The following were the winners of the event up to and including yesterday: 1902, William M. Gray; 1903, no event held; 1904, Hughes Olinphart; 1905, George C. Lafferty; 1906, Morven Thompson; 1907, Robert D. Dalsell; 1908, Thomas A. Clayton; 1909, Walter (G. Peter); 1910, George F. Downey; 1911, Reeve Lewis; 1912, Walter R. Tucker; 1913, John W. Childress, and 1914, Allan Larr.

Thomas received an opportunity later in the afternoon to carry the ball for the second varsity against the scrubs and his work was commendable. He ran hard with the ball and picked holes in the line. Despite the fact that it marks the first time that he played in the backfield, the work of Thomas both as an interferer and carrying the ball was superior to that of the other backs he was working with, and who have been out all season.

Only a few of the varsity men were allowed a rest, most of the squad being sent into scrimmage for a short period. Highley, McLean, Nourse and Glick were the players who were kept out of the scrimmage. The players suffered no ill effects from the Dartmouth game, and from present indications Rush will have his team intact for the next game. The squad reported to University Field in the early part of the afternoon, where about one hour was given over to work behind closed gates, in which Rush worked on a number of new formations that he probably will not use until the Harvard game. The coaches then took the squad to the stadium, where the varsity scrimmaged with the scrubs for less than fifteen minutes, and then the second varsity worked against the second squad until dark.

SCORE EASY VICTORY.

White Autos Capture Amateur Championship.

OAKLAND, Cal., October 25.—The White Autos of Cleveland yesterday won the amateur base ball championship of the world, exclusive of the intercollegiate games, by beating decisively the South Takoma (Wash.) Tigers in the last of a series of three games, by 15 to 5. The game was a procession, led by the Ohio boys, who outplayed the Tigers in every department.

Cleveland had fourteen runs before Tacoma was out of the inning. The White Autos having made eight hits off his delivery and tallied nine times. Score: White Autos..... 15 14 2 Tacoma..... 5 7 1

Batteries—Knight and Fohle; Eley, Haughland and Patterson.

GLOOM AT HARVARD.

Defeat by Cornell Still Felt in Ranks of Crimson.

CAMBRIDGE, Mass., October 25.—There was not very much optimism noticed about Harvard foot ball camp yesterday afternoon, for the defeat by Cornell was not expected by the varsity. The coaches took occasion to go over the mistakes made by the team in the game, and this retrospect was not very pleasant.

Percy Haughton had his men in the blackboard room a long time before sending them to the base ball cage for signal drill, there being nothing except some late kicking practice in the stadium, owing to the progress of the track meets, which were participated in the Cornell game reported, but only five of them took any part in the practice, the others not even putting on their foot ball clothes. Radman and Cowen were the only linemen in the drill, with Watson again at quarterback. Coach Haughton said that all did some work. There were no serious injuries in the Cornell game.

ANOTHER JONES AT YALE.

NEW HAVEN, Conn., October 25.—Clarence M. Jones of Exello, Ohio, brother of Edward and Tad Jones, two of Yale's most famous former athletes, won the 100-yard dash at the Yale fall track games yesterday in 0.10 3-5. Charles Stewart of Eccleston, Md., captured the furlong flat event in 0.23 3-5. Edward Deurnea of New York city was a close second in both sprints. James A. Roche of New Haven furnished the best performance of the day in the quarter-mile dash by finishing in 0.50 3-5 against a strong wind. Henry Sage Cooper of Albany won the half mile in 2.02 3-5, and Richard T. Wood of Bristol won the mile run in 4.50 2-5.

The high hurdles were taken by Douglas B. Simonson of New York city in 0.17 1-5, and the furlong timber event by E. J. Rodman of Los Angeles, Cal., in 0.27. Kenneth F. Potter of St. Louis was first in the high jump with 5 feet 5 inches, and Albert S. Lane of Kenosha, Wis., was first in the broad jump with 19 feet 9 inches. Gardner Jarvis of Webster Grove, Mo., was first in the pole vault, clearing with James C. Potter of Rochester at 10 feet 9 inches.

ABERG THROWS ZBYZSKO.

NEW YORK, October 25.—Alexander Aberg of Russia, playboy's champion of Greece-Roman wrestling, successfully defended his title, throwing Waldek Zbyzsko, the Pole, after one hour and four minutes of wrestling at Madison Square Garden last night.

Aberg, who is thirty-one years old, and has won four world championships, twenty-two, weighed 230. The men met last June in an international tournament and wrestled three times, and forty-five minutes, when the contest was called a draw, as both men were exhausted.

BY H. C. BYRD.

The Treasury team landed three straight games from the Land outfit in the Departmental Bowling League last night. The score of the first game was close, but Treasury got the others by good margins. In the opening conflict the Money-handlers took the long end of a 484-to-480 count, but they rolled for more than 500 in each of their two other games, while their opponents failed to reach that mark.

Litzau was the mainstay of the Treasury five, knocking down more than 100 pins in each of his contests, his scores being 107, 113 and 110. About the best match that has taken place this year was rolled Saturday night, when the Royals took three games from the Shermans. Notwithstanding the Shermans got a score of 552 in their last game they were beaten. The games counted by the Royals were 541, 525 and 557. Lewis and Stanford rolled best for the Royals and Bontz of Shermans was the star of the match, with a set of 355 and a game of 149.
